definitely creates a bar on the trade and commerce of the country. Previously when an amending Bill was moved in the House, the President of India had given his sanction for it. Since we are seeking to make elaborate changes in the sections, I think it is necessary that the President of India should give his consent.

Mr. SPEAKER.—This point came up earlier and I remember to have given a very detailed and considered ruling. When uniformity of taxation is sought to be achieved on certain articles, it does not amount to impediment in the transport of goods from one part of the State to another. I therefore hold that there is no force in the point of order raised by the Hon. Member.

The Mysore Sales Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1970 is introduced.

MYSORE PANCHAYATIRAJ BILL, 1970

(Introduction)

Sri P. M. NADGOUDA (Minister for Development, Panchayatiraj and Co-operation).—Sir, I beg to...

Sri M. NAGAPPA.—Sir, for this Bill also the President's consent is necessary because it contains many provisions which seek to impose some tax on persons who are carrying on trade, commerce and business. This also contravenes article 301 (b) of the Constitution.

Mr. SPEAKER.—This Bill only seeks to bring about uniformity in taxation and there is no discrimination. The mere imposition of tax does not create the impediment which is contemplated by the hon. Member Sri Nagappa. I therefore hold that there is no substance in the point of order.

Sri P. M. NADGOUDA.—Sir, I beg to introduce the Mysore Panchayatiraj Bill, 1970.

Mr. SPEAKER.—The Mysore Panchayatiraj Bill, 1970 is introduced.
